

Mind Maps and Notes

After creating a Mind Map such as the example below "The Qualities of Leonardo da Vinci" you can use parts of the Mind Map to make notes or create writing by using a lined background.

You could crop branches individually to work on a branch at a time or apply a smaller version of the whole Mind Map image centrally and use the entire surrounding area of the page for notes.

The background could also be left blank to expand the Mind Map further or add more images and sketches.

Here are examples and templates:

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are approximately 20 lines visible. The paper has a slight shadow on the right side, suggesting it's resting on a surface.[illegible]

Mindmaps ® were invented by Tony Buzan

They help us progress from "linear" (one-dimensional) through "lateral" (two-dimensional) to "radiant" (multi-dimensional) thinking.
